membership application

Join the men and women of TCMLC as we relive the old ways and revive the skills of a bygone era. Discover an America of keen-eyed riflemen, skillful craftsmen, and hearty meals simmering over inviting campfires. Don't watch from afar! Join us in re-discovering early frontier skills, sharing the spirit of self-reliance that sparked our humble colonies to a nation of greatness.

The Twin Cities Muzzle Loading Club, Inc. was established in 1956 as a non-profit organization to promote interest and participation in historical re-enacting and the collection, shooting, and building of muzzleloading firearms. Our period of interest spans the French and British Colonial periods through the Rocky Mountain fur trade era (1700-1840). Specific interests include traditional muzzleloading arms, shooting and hunting, re-enacting, trekking, and traditional skills such as gun building, finger and inkle weaving, brain tanning, horn building, bag weaving, and flint knapping. Club membership is available to anyone who shares these interests. We especially enjoy passing on what we've learned to novices.

Club members may participate in club-sponsored hunts, black powder shoots, treks, and period encampments, and special interest groups, such as the club gun-builder's group.

The Club sponsors a number of annual public events, including the Cannon River Rendezvous, Minnesota Black Powder Championship, a winter shoot series, and an introduction-to-muzzleloading event.

The club membership meets at 7:00pm on the first Wednesday of every month at Bill's Gun Shop, 4080 W Broadway, Robbinsdale. Maps to the meetings are on www.tcmlc.com. Member meetings are open to interested non-members, and are a good way for prospective members to "get a feel" for the club.
